How the Cup was decided

The Robert Kronfeld Cup is not a cumulative-points ranking. It is awarded to the pilot — across the Open, 18 Metre and 20 Metre Multi-Seat classes — who flew the single longest Marking Distance on any one task of the championship, regardless of task type. The longest task of the meet was the Open-class racing (polygon) task on 28 May 2026 (Task 9), 848.076 km, status official. Fourteen Open pilots completed the full marked distance and therefore tie on Marking Distance, so tie-break (c) — highest speed on that task — decides the Cup. Felipe Levin's 143.20 km/h was clear of the field, so the outlanding-time tie-break (d) was not required.

Notes

- Marking Distance is taken from SoaringSpot's scored_distance field; speed from scored_speed (stored in m/s and converted to km/h). On a fully completed racing task, scored distance equals the task distance for all finishers — which is exactly why the 14-way tie arises and the speed tie-break is decisive.

- Next-best Marking Distance anywhere in the championship was 778.076 km (also Open Task 9, Christian Hynek, who did not finish for speed). The longest 18 Metre distance was 755.198 km (Karol Staryszak), confirming Open as the deciding class.
- Practice days were excluded. Result based on the official Task 9 results (result_status: official), re-pulled live from the soaringspot MCP server.
